

ZONAL NASA CONVENTION 2018

Date of visit: 18th to 21st of October 2018

Venue: SIT, Tumkur

About the event: The students of School of Architecture, KL University participated in 61st Zonal NASA Convention which was conducted in SIT - TUMKUR during 18th to 21st of October 2018. 50 colleges from Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka, Goa participated with student strength of 2000. We are Glad to announce that our students from all the semesters has participated in various design trophies, formal events, casual events and informal events, many seminars and workshops.

Letter of Invitation

Inauguration Ceremony and Key Note Speakers

List of workshops during the convention

PARADE ON DAY 1:

Every college goes on in a rally around the host college representing their college with t shirts, flags. It is the opening event of the convention with different kinds of dance and other performances.

Students of KLU, School of Architecture representing our university at the convention

The students participate in a wide range of activities representing their universities and colleges. The events range from formal to informal and casual events. Students also get an opportunity in participating a variety of hands on workshop and seminars delivered by eminent people around the country.

The Students of Architecture, KLU have managed to attend all the possible events representing the universities and also have got special appreciation in few of the events.

Students of KLU, School of Architecture participating in Sports events

Students of KLU, School of Architecture participating in Informal events

Students of KLU, School of Architecture participating in Outdoor Workshops

T-shirts and Flag design by students of KLU. School of Architecture

Various design trophies are also floated in the convention where we have active participation of our students in trophies like – Rubens and Annual Design Trophy. The sheets of all the colleges are pinned for student display and jury session.

Display of sheets by students of KLU, School of Architecture

Other college students reviewing our sheets

The convention ended by a closing ceremony with cultural activities and fashion display designed by various colleges.

Cultural performances in the convention
